DOUBLE TROUBLE

We're as pleased as punch to be riding on the coat-tails of William Conrad's fame in the pages of DOUBLE BILL. What better hem to be hitched to? All the boys of DOUBLE BILL want Conrad as their own, and all the girls have a deep respect for the big guy.

However, this isn't a magic carpet ride. Various indignant Burroughs-breed type men are up in arms about DOUBLE BILL - but we just can't stop ourselves from saying lots of horrible things about the ol' pot shot himself, the homo in Huggies. Despite the reactionary male protests, girls WILL continue to warn each other about killers on the loose.

What it all boils down to is this: DOUBLE BILL is on a crusade to banish wife-blasters Bill Burroughs and ring the bells over Bill Conrad's love of life, lust, and largeness. And, if you do catch a gay man getting all protective of Burroughs, all defensive about our attack on this murderer of a woman, you might just ask yourself, "Why?". The answer is simple: you can't keep up the pretense of 'white gay man as an oppressed, feminist-identified victim' when you condone the career of a man who shot his wife.

Is that logic 'surrealistic'? We think not. And, as the abundance of letters* we've received from girls across the country will attest, it's just common sense. Or, 'Cannon sense'.

Someday, the giant art fag empire will fall. In the meantime, we've got a slingshot, and we're gonna use it.

Frankly, I was appalled by the nomination of Double Bill for a Pink Trillium Award in the category of outstanding gay community publication. As Michelle Pfeiffer says so succinctly in Batman Returns, "Meow."

Double square to those who complain so bitterly and at such length about old Bill in print that they give him more underground publicity (and legitimacy) than he deserves, thereby leeching off his fame in the process.

William S Burroughs and William Conrad, together? No, this isn't a new romantic rumour, but Double Bill, the latest 'zine from the folks who brought you Bimbox and Bitch Nation. Alternating between drooling raves about the Cannon actor and character assassination of Burroughs, it's a welcome antidote to the omnipresent hype about the film Naked Lunch. It's nice to know that somebody remembers that he killed his wife.

Double Bill makes a delightful barbecue out of a particularly ubiquitous sacred cow and is well worth checking out. Even if (like me) you liked Naked Lunch. Especially if you liked Naked Lunch, come to think of it.

For instance, when Italian Alberto Tomba heads down the course, viewers can clearly see printed on his bib, "If I fall, call 'Rescue 911,' Tuesdays on CBS."

"We were going to put them on the downhill skiers, but they go by too fast to read," Neal Pilson, CBS Sports president, explains.

In addition, the winner of the ladies' figure skating gold medal, when asked in a post-competition interview what she's going to do next, instead of saying "I'm going to Disney World," is required to say, "I'm going home to watch Jake And The Fatman."

Dear Double Bill:

I could never understand what
Burroughs was going on for anyway.
I always keep quiet when people talk about his work cuz I felt somewhat unhip for not devouring it. He talks too slow. His stories are 'too dirty' (as in unsanitary) for me to want to think about anyway - not that I am a neat-queen. Just cuz he is old - people think he is sacred. I hate how he dresses.
Retired people should wear jogging suits. Is he retired? That stupid hat!
Not my type anyway.

Have you noticed that Conrad's part on "Jake" is getting smaller.
I always thought that the only reason I tuned in was for Joe Penny's hairy chest & big arms - But they don't have him swimming or working out in the plot often enough to be really satisfying - now I realize that B. Conrad was the Real Turn-On.
But some times he is only in the credits.
Boo-hoo!
I hope Mrs. Noxema & Rex-Boy got lots of good B.C. pics in Hollywood.

With regard to DOUBLE BILL, allow me to quote the movie JFK: "In the homosexual underworld, people like to make themselves out to be more important than they actually are."

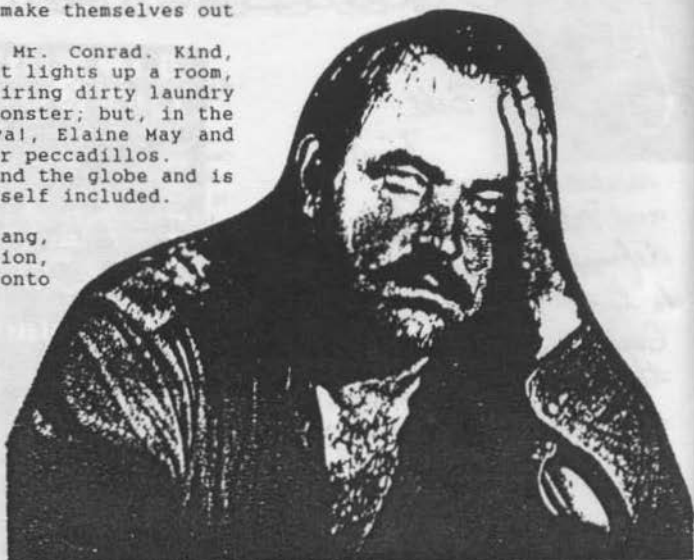

I apply this to Mr. Burroughs, not to Mr. Conrad. Kind, courteous, generous and with sparkling wit that lights up a room, Conrad is a true star who would not stoop to airing dirty laundry in public, his or anyone else's. He can be a monster; but, in the tradition of Warhol, Fassbinder, Halston, Vivali, Elaine May and Sandra Bernhard, geniuses must be allowed their peccadillos.

Conrad has friends of both sexes all around the globe and is currently collaborating with several women, myself included.

Vito Lang,
AZT Nation,

Gosh Vito, your letter lays it on so thick that if we didn't know better, we'd swear it was written by the Big C himself. Then again, it's silly to even imagine that the innocent, ever-humble Conrad would stoop to tooting his own horn. Indeed, William Conrad has a long list of loyal friends willing to fight to the death his despicable persecution by a fiendish misogynist the likes of William Burroughs. And rest assured that any selfish, fence-sitting spineless traitors will get a good swift kick in the hump.

So yeah, Double Bill is fucking incredible! I got one for my friends in Bikini Kill who I've heard talk about Bill Burroughs a lot before - what a great idea! But honestly I knew nothing about either Bills before I read it. But it makes sense. It's March and I don't have rent cause I wasted all my savings on that SPEW convention. It kinda sucks. I think I kinda know now what you meant in Double Bill when you said boycott SPEW 2. AMERICA speaks out:

You're The One For Me, Fatty

Viva! Encore! Bravissimo! The people have spoken, and Americans are lining up to sing the praises of William Conrad. Since the debut of DOUBLE BILL this past January, mealy-mouthed compliments, buttery support, and honeyed words for our darling Bill have fattened our post office box. And although nothing less than rave reviews have been on the menu, a perfect score may not have been a reality had the most recent issue of THREE DOLLAR BILL (prime stomping ground for the other Bill) chosen not to tackle the steel trap mind of William Conrad. (Is editor Deke perhaps saving his words to the wide for another forum?) Others, thankfully, don't see the world through a sealed zine. Solely because of our extensive William Conrad coverage, DOUBLE BILL is up for a highly coveted Pink Trillium Award in the category of Outstanding Gay Community Publication, although admittedly not everyone is thrilled about the nomination (see K.D. Kwellada letter, right). Ms. Kwellada aside, America's mandate is clear: people prefer William Conrad...

Cannon, with his "smile as sweet as a rose" and "chest full of powerful muscles" learns target practice the hard way with that tired ol' misogynist junkie Bald Bill, and it's about time. Frankly, I was appalled by the nomination of Double Bill for a Pink Trillium Award in the category of outstanding gay community publication. As Michelle Pfeiffer says so succinctly in Batman Returns, "Meow."

Meanwhile, Bruce La Bruce, not unlike Barbra Streisand at last year's Oscars, remains unjustly ignored. Not nominating this ultra-talented fag entrepreneur in numerous categories, including outstanding community individual, outstanding gay art achievement and, of course, outstanding contribution to the women's community is a serious oversight which demands immediate explanation.

Indeed, like Ms Foster's undeserved award for the homophobic Silence Of The Lambs, this is a slap in the face to us all.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

"There is a small lunatic fringe that specializes in annoying celebrities."

That portentous motto signals the arrival of yet another poison blow-dart from a certain pack of clean-cut, well-spoken and nicely dressed young queers who have been driven to the deepest, darkest, most amusing depths of madness by being raised in that infamous also-ran of a North American country, Ontario. Or Canada. Whatever its name is. You know, the place where David Cronenberg, Neil Young and those moronic, metallic fascists in Rush all come from. We give them acid rain, they give us 2112—seems like a fair enough exchange.

Anyway, this youth gang—they lack a proper tag, but perhaps if we mention that their ranks include the glamorous Jena von Brucker, the very desirable G.B. Jones, the witty and inviting Johnny Noxema and, of course, Rex (nee Boy)—have found a new hobby. Their old one, harassing boring, tight-assed P.C. gays and smug straights, has been replaced with a new pastime that calls more for surgical strikes than blanket stink bombs.

Who have these young hellions picked for their first major target? How about William "Hey, she didn't have to put that shot glass on her head" Burroughs, the over-lionized eminence gris of supposedly outlaw American arts and letters (think about all the contradictions inherent in that description). Although we ourselves have been known to (figuratively) "suck at the asshole" of this "fashionable, trendsetting, tortured junkie" and "ugly, sexist, racist, murdering leech," we say, "Hey, kids! Kill your idols! It's fun, and it's educational, too!"

Double Bill is a paean to the juxtaposed possibilities of William Conrad and William Burroughs, with the latter playing Satanic, racist, woman-killing demon-spirit to the former's fat, fatherly, good-natured Buddha. Or something like that. I don't know. These kids are younger than me, so their brains work a little faster.

Q: Who will be the next Queen Of The AIDS Hags? //

We here at DOUBLE BILL are shocked that so many girls bother to concern themselves with AIDS. AIDS, of course, is everybody's problem, but the naked truth is that whining gay men have done just as much if not more than the government and media to isolate AIDS as an exclusively white gay male disease. Diamanda Galas and Karen Finley should think twice about battling it out for the title of Queen of the AIDS Hags, because if they pick up a copy of the ADVOCATE, FRONTIERS or XTRA they'll quickly discover that gay men don't give a flying fuck about breast cancer or abortion or rape or any other horror show that affects mainly girls. If Karen and Dia' were smart and wanted to really explore the depths of human compassion, they'd write to BITCH NATION and ask to join F.A.S.T.E.R., the hip new 13 step programme just for girls. F.A.S.T.E.R. stands for Fags Are Stupider Than Ever Realized, and the t-shirts say "AIDS can Kill 'em F.A.S.T.E.R. for all we care".

The fact that the F.A.S.T.E.R. programme had to be implemented at all is a testament to the collective stupidity of the lesbian and gay community. William Burroughs goes out and murders a girl and later publishes entire volumes about how women shouldn't be allowed to raise children and how a pill should be made to prevent the birth of girls, and he is hailed by lesbian and gay culture as their literary Jesus. Of course, the real ugliness in all this is that there isn't one big time girl writer who has publicly even hinted at the suggestion that Burroughs is a monster. Practically every major gay and lesbian cultural figure is a Burroughs ass licker. Kathy Acker, in particular, has spent so much time on her knees kissing his diapered asshole that we're surprised she doesn't have a ripe cluster of anal warts for lips...

Authors, rock stars, photographers, publishers, filmmakers, poets, playwrights, and artistes of all types take heed: we know who you are and we're watching what you do, and we think it's only fair to let you know that Bald Bill isn't the only sniper with an itchy trigger finger. The time is now to choose your Bill once and for all. Speak up loudly, because the fat man's got a couple of party tricks of his own, and he never misses either.

Love,
DOUBLE BILL

APPENDUM: WE HERE AT DOUBLE BILL ARE ALSO SHOCKED THAT SO MANY GIRLS BOTHER TO CONCERN THEMSELVES WITH MEN THAT HAVE A.I.D.S. WHEN THE UGLY TRUTH IS THAT MEN HAVE SIMPLY ADDED A.I.D.S. TO THE ARSENAL IN THEIR WAR AGAINST WOMEN. (IN A RECENT "X-TRA" (TORONTO GAY PUBL.) SURVEY, 54% OF GAY BATHHOUSE PATRONS CLAIMED TO BE BISEXUAL; 85% OF THEM DID NOT PRACTICE SAFE SEX. WOMEN ARE AT A MUCH HIGHER RISK OF UNKNOWNLY OBTAINING A.I.D.S., CONSIDERING THE FACTS THAT: 1) MEN ARE TRYING TO KILL THEM, USING A.I.D.S. AS A WEAPON; 2) MEN LIE TO THEIR WIVES ABOUT THEIR SEXUALITY AND H.I.V. STATUS; 3) MANY WOMEN ARE FORCED INTO PROSTITUTION FOR ADEQUATE INCOME WHEREUPON MEN FORCE THEM TO PRACTICE UNSAFE SEX (SEE 1); 4) MEN RAPE (SEE 1)

SPECIAL NOTE TO OUR FAG READERS:

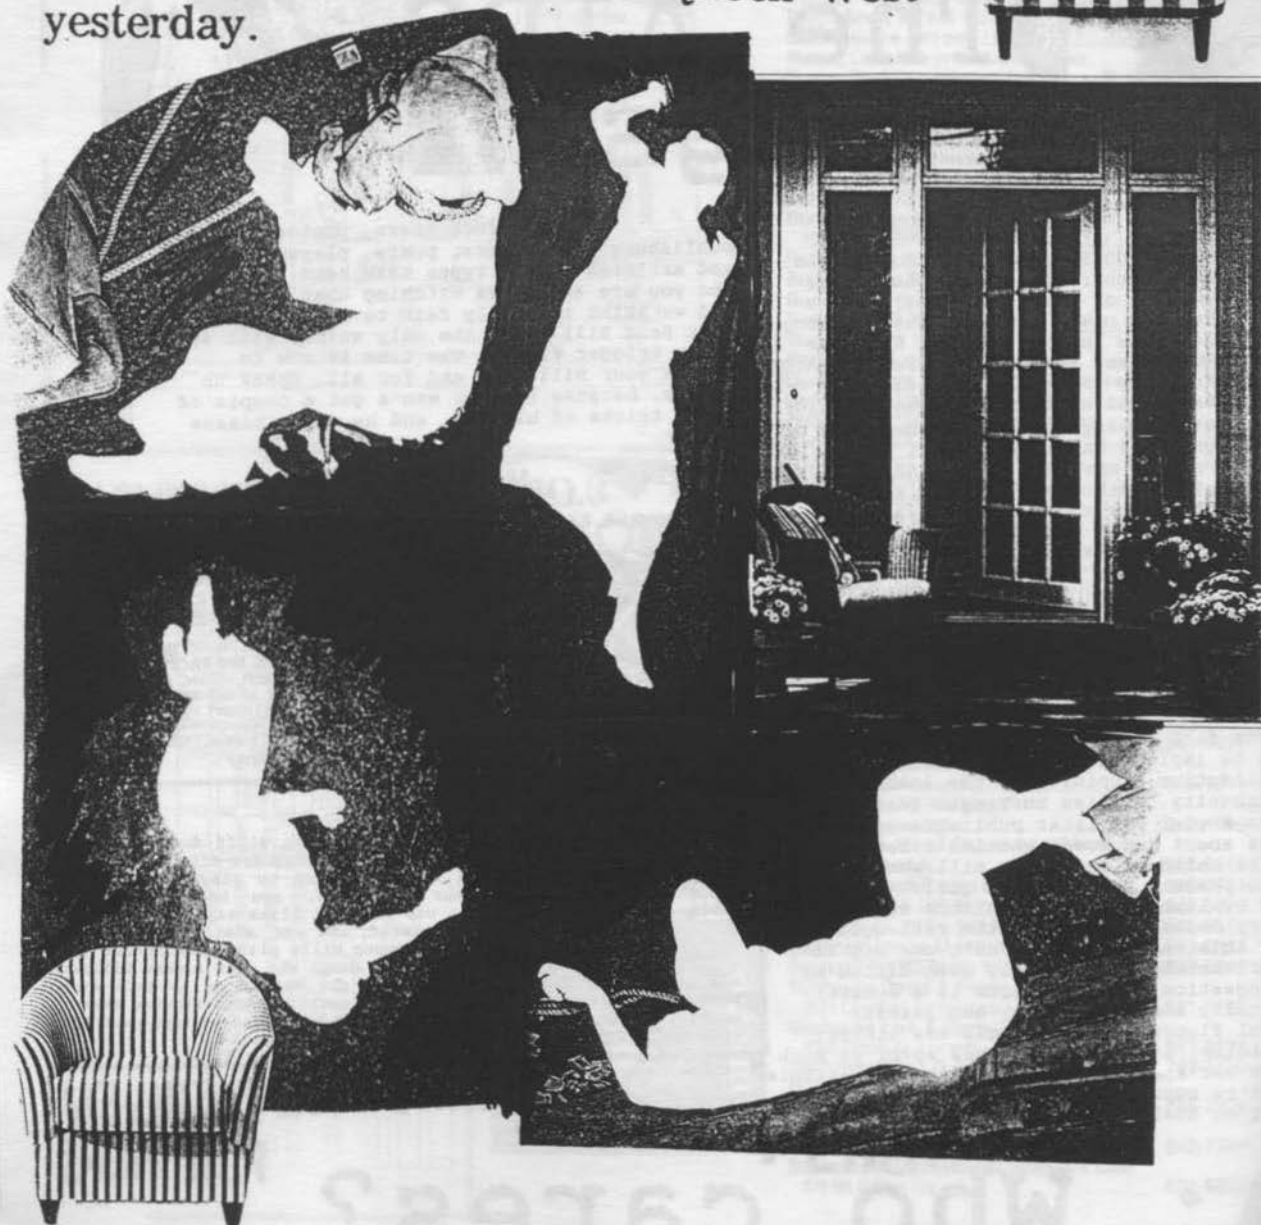

O.K., so we were messing around with some stuff from the tool drawer and we accidentally came up with a cure for AIDS, and it was getting really complicated so we decided to play it safe and videotape how we made our invention, you know, just for documentation's sake, and it was our last blank tape, and then we turned on the t.v. after we finished, and wow, what do ya know, it was the episode of Cannon where Donna Mills plays this insane yet brilliant rock star all fucked up on drugs who goes around killing all these men, but ya know what? - she had to go to jail even though her crimes were committed in a psychotic drug-induced state. Anyway, it's a really good episode so we sorta had to tape over the cure for AIDS. Hope you're not mad or anything...

DOUBLE AGENT 23 SPILLS HIS GUTS

3 June 1992
Lawrence, Kansas

DOUBLE BILL: ARE YOU SURE NO ONE FOLLOWED YOU HERE?

DOUBLE AGENT 23: I don't think so. I'm lucky - this time. But I can't continue meeting with you like this. It's just too risky.

DB: DO YOU THINK THEY'LL KILL YOU, TOO?

23: Listen, I know too much and they're already suspicious of me. You have no idea how powerful they are and what the extent of their influence is. Why do you think "Phone Bill" was nixed by two publications before being published by GIRL GERMS? And it's certainly no coincidence that DOUBLE BILL hasn't been profiled by the national gay media. You're playing with fire. DOUBLE BILL is jeopardizing everything The Cartel has been working towards for the last 40 years...

DB: BUT NOW THAT IT'S ALL OUT IN THE OPEN...

23: You don't understand who you're dealing with. A human life means nothing to these people, especially a girl's. We're all expendable.

DB: WHAT ABOUT THIS BOOK, "THE MAKING OF NAKED LUNCH"?

23: Oh, you mean Plan B. Well, The Cartel anticipated they might run into some problems when the Cronenberg movie hit the theatres, so they came up with the coffee table book in case the film was a flop at the box office or with critics.

DB: TURNS OUT IT WAS BOTH.

23: Oh, it was an unmitigated disaster. The book was intended to save his reputation.

DB: THAT EXPLAINS WHY HIS DISCIPLES SHOVEL THE PRAISE SO LAVISHLY...

23: Well, as if they had a choice. If they want to continue to find work on this side of the Atlantic, being objective really isn't an issue.

DB: BUT IT SEEMS ALL IN VAIN; THE BOOK ISN'T EXACTLY BREAKING SALES RECORDS.

23: Yes, and The Cartel is panicking. The failure of the movie and the book coupled with the diaper incident... believe me, heads are going to roll.

DB: THAT CAUSED A LOT OF TROUBLE? LEAKING THE DIAPER STORY?

23: Oh, they were furious when SCAB No. 2 leaked the story. It hit them a little too close to home. The Big B has been in a real foul mood for months, now. He's even been having this recurring dream where June Allyson sneaks a 'special' pair into his box of Depends, and then proceeds to serve him lunch. Poor Bill stuffs himself silly, and a short while later things start to bubble. Pretty soon he starts running and he can't stop. We're talking killer liquid shit here, and it's burning up his raw asshole like you wouldn't believe...

DB: AND THEN WHAT HAPPENS?

23: He gets absorbed into oblivion, and then he wakes up screaming. Anyway, The Cartel literally erupted trying to find out how the fact that he wears diapers seeped out. There was a real gush of anger, a genuine outpouring of rage. They were anxious to discharge the guilty party and let me tell you, it certainly put a strain on things around the office. You'd all better start watching your backs, or you'll end up like A.

DB: Y-YOU MEAN?

23: Yep, Andy himself. I'm suprised the tabloids haven't picked up on that one yet. The motive is so obvious, I guess they just can't see the forest for the trees. In the mid 80's, it was becoming clear that Warhol would become Fag Of The Century, so The Cartel had him snuffed out. It was a classic mob hit - no blood, no witnesses.

DB: AND WOMEN, NURSES, GOT THE BLAME.

23: Exactly. The Cartel was becoming nervous over dismal financial projections for the company, so removal of the competition was imperative to ensure a fat bank account for the Second Coming.

DB: ARE THEY REALLY THAT WORRIED?

23: Yes. And with no end in sight for this recession, it's crucial that The Cartel's capital base be expanded. That's why the Cronenberg project and the "Drugstore Cowboy" role were such disappointments for them. They need an Oscar desperately, and they were horrified both times they weren't even nominated. They also wasted a huge chunk of cash paying off the gay media to brand "Silence Of The Lambs" homophobic, and when it swept the Academy Awards, it really hit them below the belt. An Oscar is really the most important award you could ever expect to achieve in your lifetime.

DB: AND JODIE FOSTER HAS TWO OF THEM. BUT BILL STILL HAS THAT NIFTY PIN FROM THE INSTITUTE OF ARTS AND LETTERS...

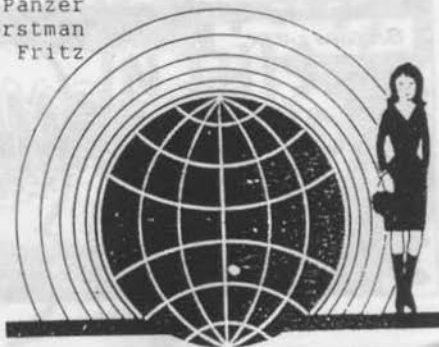

23: Oh, any fool can get one of those. Gosh, somehow The Cartel has lost its foothold in Hollywood. It's not like it was 10 years ago.

DB: WHAT HAPPENED THEN?

23: Well, Burroughs has always been leery of William Conrad, and with good reason, so when Conrad suddenly returned to prime time after a 5 year absence, The Cartel was forced to spring into action.

DB: WHAT EXACTLY WENT DOWN?

23: Conrad launched a series on NBC called "Nero Wolfe" in which he starred as a crime-solving homosexual genius - Burrough's worst nightmare. The year was 1981, I think. This pre-dated "Love, Sidney" by 9 months as network television's first major t.v. series with a gay lead character. Love, Sidney's skinny, effeminate, sickly-looking Tony Randall posed no threat to becoming a national hero, but The Cartel was seriously concerned over sexy William Conrad, especially with the fact that his virile Nero Wolfe character had four in-house love interests: Archie Goodwin (Lee Horsley) and Saul Panzer (George Wyner), his personal assistants; Theodore Horstman (Robert Coote), his personal horticulturalist; and Fritz Brenner (George Voskovee), his personal gourmet cook.

DB: OH MY, SO NERO WOLFE COULD SATISFY FOUR MEN...

23: ...while Burroughs couldn't even satisfy himself. Yes, Nero Wolfe was a devastating blow to his ego, and he was insanely jealous. That's why he arranged to have it cancelled after only 7 months on the air.

DB: THAT MUST HAVE COST HIM A PRETTY PENNY.

23: Oh, it cost a fortune. Nero Wolfe was the pride of the NBC line up. It was a sleeper hit, just like Cannon. Another month and the ratings would have gone through the roof. The payoff to NBC was another unforeseen obstacle that really put things behind schedule. It really slowed things down at the school.

DB: THE SCHOOL?

23: Yes, the school. The Jack Kerouac School Of Disembodied Poetics. Sometimes The Cartel will use one of their lackey's names to detract attention. William, Jack, Allen, Brion, they're all the same. They're all cut from the same mouldy cloth.

DB: WHAT DO THEY TEACH AT THE SCHOOL?

23: [laughter] Well, it's not really a school. It's part of the Naropa Institute, which is this pimp service that was set up by some idiot buddhist. Basically it's a whore house where they break in new talent. If you want to move up in the ranks of The Cartel, it's essential to have the school and institute on your resume. If you're young and good looking, you attend the school for awhile, they work you over, assign you a boyfriend - an ugly hideous monster high up in The Cartel - and BOOM, before you know it, you're translating poetry, writing plays, editing novels, making films... you're on your way, you're one of the 'in' crowd. And as long as you hate women and toe the party line, everything moves along smoothly. And one day, you'll be the one who has an young innocent plaything show up on your doorstep with a note attached saying "From Naropa, with love, xox Bill". It's a vicious cycle.

DB: BUT HOW DO GIRLS END UP IN THE SYSTEM?

23: You mean the Kathy Ackers? The Laurie Andersons? Well, they don't, not really. They're just bait to lure in the str looking/ str acting, and funny thing is that they actually believe that The Cartel listens to whatever they have to say. Meanwhile, Bill is laughing all the way to bank.

DB: AT THIS POINT HE MUST NEED A LAUGH TRACK.

23: Really. Oh my God, it's 11:15. There's a big shipment of diapers coming in, so I'd better get back up to the house or they'll notice I'm missing.

DB: O.K., BUT BEFORE YOU GO, THE GIRLS IN THE LAB CAME UP WITH A LITTLE SOMETHING THEY'D LIKE YOU TO SLIP INTO BILL'S NEXT HIGHBALL... IT'S CALLED "JOAN'S REVENGE", AND IT'S SUPER CONCENTRATED TRIPLE INDUSTRIAL STRENGTH CASCARA, AND FOR YOUR OWN SAFETY, WE SUGGEST THAT YOU MAKE SURE THE BOYS IN THE MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT UP AT THE COMPOUND HAVE THE WATER PRESSURE IN BATHROOM GOING FULL TILT OVER THE NEXT FEW DAYS...
